

A GARMENT HANGER

Abstract

A garment hanger (10) to attach a garment to a rack or rail to inhibit removal of the garment. The hanger (10) includes a garment support portion consisting of a pair of diverging arms (11). Attached to the arms (11) is an engaging portion (12) that would include an engaging portion (12) in the form of an eyelet assembly. The engaging portion (12) is assembled about the rack or rail so that the hanger (10) is inhibited from removal therefrom.
